Air Elite Expands Service Locations - Anchorage, Alaska to Athens, Greece

New VIP offering comes to Greece and Alaska for network customers

16 October 2018 – USA – Air Elite Network welcomes two new members, JetSet Services and Great Circle Flight Services, to its global network of 72 independently owned FBOs.

JetSet Services is based at Athens International Airport (LGAV) and supports flights across 20 other main airports in Greece. JetSet Services offers bespoke VIP and handling services to their customers, as well as 24-hour operational assistance, airport lot coordination, PPRs, and landing permits.

Great Circle Flight Services, a Ross Aviation FBO, located at Ted Stevens Anchorage International Airport (PANC), offers the most personal, safe, and reliable service at PANC. Since it opened in 2005, Great Circle Flight Services has built a reputation for providing personal, attentive service to large business aircraft traveling between financial centers in the United States and Asia.

These new partnerships have been announced on the newly launched Air Elite Network LinkedIn page, where further customer updates will also be shared.

“The Air Elite Network fosters an excellent standard of service for customers and it is a pleasure to be part of this group, having been recognized by World Fuel Services and the network as a quality provider. We look forward to bringing a VIP and bespoke experience to Air Elite’s business aviation customers and offering them a level of care they would not receive outside of the network,” stated John Stergiopoulos, Managing Director at JetSet Services.

“As the first Air Elite member in Alaska, we are honored to have been accepted into the network and are looking forward to making the most of its many benefits. We have always prided ourselves in delivering outstanding customer service and we know we will be enhancing our service standards even more thanks to The Ritz-Carlton training that is provided to Air Elite members ” added Cy Farmer, COO for Ross Aviation.

“We continually strive to find exceptional FBOs to enhance the network. JetSet Services and Great Circle Flight Services are a clear fit based on their elevated service philosophies and well-appointed facilities. Our mission with the Air Elite Network is to provide business aircraft operators with consistent, elevated service at extraordinary locations - wherever they fly around the world. They will get personalized services unique to their wants and needs. We look forward to delivering the Diamond Difference in Greece and Alaska” commented Steve Drzymalla, Air Elite Board Member and SVP, Business Aviation Bulk Fuel Sales at World Fuel Services.
