FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Concord Regional Airport Commits to Seven More Years with World Fuel Services Network

Air Elite Network Diamond Service Location served by World Fuel Services since 2007

Tampa, Florida (June 28, 2017) – World Fuel Services announced today that Concord Regional Airport (KJQF), located in Concord, NC has extended their World Fuel Services Network contract by seven years for the FBO's bulk fuel supply and branded programs. Concord Regional Airport, an Air Elite Diamond Service Location since 2013, has been served by World Fuel Services since 2007.

"We are honored for the opportunity to serve Concord Regional Airport with our bulk fuel and programs for another seven years," said Steve Drzymalla, World Fuel Services' Senior Vice President of Business Aviation Bulk Fuel. "We admire Concord Regional's commitment to the business and general aviation industry in providing diamond-level service to their customers. We appreciate their continued support over the years and look forward to supporting their operation with the tools they need to best serve their customers and continue their success in the industry."

Owned and operated by the City of Concord, Concord Regional Airport's 24-hour, full service FBO is located just 15 minutes northeast of Charlotte's central business district, in the heart of North Carolina's highest growth corridor. Convenient to several local attractions including the Charlotte Motor speedway, Concord Regional Airport features 25 acres of ramp space, five large hangars, an FAA 139 certification, ATC services, and a 7,400 foot, full-instrument runway. Home of the "NASCAR Air Force," Concord Regional takes the racing theme seriously and offers quick turns and efficient, friendly service. "Concord Regional Airport is pleased to extend the current contract. This extension underlines WFS' reputation as a leader in the industry and their strength and reliability in fueling capabilities. World Fuel Services has an experienced team and provides solutions we need to attract more business and conduct operations efficiently and effectively. It also allows our customers and staff access to reliable fuel supply, Safety 1st training, operational systems, marketing support, contract fuel and credit options," said Susan Green, Airport Director for Concord Regional Airport. "We look forward to working with World Fuel Services for another seven years. We have no doubt that they will ensure the continued success of our airport."

As a Phillips 66® Aviation branded member of the World Fuel Services Network and Air Elite Network, Concord Regional Airport has access to comprehensive business and general aviation airport & FBO solutions designed to foster their business' success and help them better serve customers with world class offerings and diamond level service.
