World Fuel Services and Baldwin Aviation Announce Software Collaboration will Integrate FRAT and TRAT into myWorld App

October 13, 2017 – HOUSTON – World Fuel Services (WFS) announced today that their new myWorld app will merge Baldwin Aviation’s safety management software (SMS) to deliver safety management and trip support services together, in one app.

This software collaboration will merge Baldwin’s Trip Threat Risk Assessment Tool (TRAT) and Flight Risk Assessment Tool (FRAT) processes into the flight planning process to increase safety, enhance regulatory compliance, and save time for pilots and flight departments.

Baldwin provides a unique approach to SMS because their solutions and tools encompass the whole trip, not just the flight portion.

“Often SMS systems lack flexibility, or are too simplistic,” said Rich Harper, vice president, trip operations for WFS. “With Baldwin’s TRAT and FRAT processes, our customers will be able to identify, track, and trend potential exposures in one easy-to-use app.”

The myWorld app will include the following features from Baldwin:

- Baldwin’s SMS integrated with World Fuel|Colt Trip Support Services and technologies
- Baldwin’s Flight Risk Assessment Tool (FRAT) to assess flight risks
- Baldwin’s Trip Threat Assessment Tool (TRAT) which focuses on human factors for the entire trip
- Baldwin’s Integrated Document Management to assure compliant manuals and optional access to ASAP/ASIAS and FOQA/FDM
